What does the Equity and Title IX Office Do?

We address issues of discrimination, harassment, and misconduct on the basis of social identities protected by law and Caltech policies: These include race, national origin, ethnicity, sex, gender, gender identity, gender expression, sexual orientation, pregnancy, disabilities, and medical conditions.
What is Title IX

Title IX: Federal law that prohibits sex discrimination in education

Goal: Prevent and address sex or gender-based misconduct, including all forms of sexual misconduct, that negatively affect the educational experience
What is Covered Under Title IX?

- Sex and gender-based discrimination
- Sex and gender-based harassment
- Sexual misconduct
- Dating and domestic violence
- Stalking
KEY ASPECTS OF POLICY
Scope of Caltech Policy

- Vendors, contractors, visitors
- Otherwise participating in Caltech educational programs or activities
Covered Circumstances of Prohibited Conduct

- On our property, at our sponsored events, in our programs/activities
- In residential facilities we own or control, anywhere
- On property or at events controlled or sponsored by Caltech-affiliated organizations, including student organization, regardless of location
- Off-campus, when the occurrence could contribute to a hostile educational environment or otherwise interfere with a student’s access to education
- Any PC, anywhere, and outside our educational programs/activities, if there is any reason to believe the incident could contribute to a hostile educational environment or otherwise interfere with a student’s access to education
Title IX Sexual Misconduct
Important Rules

- No dating between supervisor/advisor/instructor/coach and those whom they evaluate (their students, subordinates)

- No dating between employees and undergrads

- No dating anyone under 18

- No retaliation for exercising a right under law or Caltech policies/procedures
Retaliation

• Retaliation against any member of the Caltech community for making a good-faith report of sexual violence, or for participating in an investigation, proceeding, or hearing conducted by Caltech or a state or federal agency, is strictly prohibited.

• Overt or covert acts of retaliation, reprisal, interference, discrimination, intimidation, or harassment against an individual or group for exercising their rights under Title IX or other federal and state laws violate this policy and are unlawful.

• Caltech will take steps to prevent retaliation and will take prompt and appropriate corrective action to stop, and remedy its effects, if retaliation occurs. Individuals who violate this policy may be subject to disciplinary action up to and including termination of employment or permanent separation from Caltech.
Title IX Sexual Harassment

- Conditioning an aid, benefit, or service on participation in unwelcome conduct
- Unwelcome conduct so severe, pervasive, and objectively offense (acc to reasonable person) that it effectively denies access to our educational program/activity
- Sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence or stalking
Limitation on Defense

- Where a power differential exists in a consensual relationship,
- Consent is not a defense to a claim of sexual harassment.
- More powerful party will be held responsible.
Sexual Assault

All involve a lack of affirmative consent.

Rape—even slight penetration of another’s vagina or anus by body part or object; oral penetration of another by a sex organ

Statutory rape—age of consent is 18 in California

Fondling—touching of another’s private body parts for sexual gratification, even through/over clothes
Dating Violence

Prior or present social relationship of a romantic or intimate nature

Length and type of relationship, as well as frequency of interactions between the parties and Complainant’s statement, inform the determination of whether a dating relationship exists

Dating violence includes sexual or physical abuse or the threat of such abuse
Stalking

Course of conduct directed at a specific person that would cause a reasonable person to fear for their own or others’ safety or to suffer substantial emotional distress

Two or more acts where the stalker, by any means, directly or through others follows, monitor, observes, surveils another; or communicates to or about another; or interferes with a person’s property

Stalking that is not on the basis of sex or gender is covered under the Violence Prevention Policy

Sex- and Gender-Based Discrimination

When a person in the United States, on the basis of actual or perceived sex, gender, gender identity, gender expression, or sexual orientation is excluded from participation in,

or is denied the benefits of,
or is subjected to discrimination,

under any Caltech program or activity, which includes all our operations
Sex- and Gender-Based Harassment

Harassment, including bullying conduct

Based on actual or perceived sex, gender, gender identity, or gender expression, transgender status, gender transition, or non-conformity with sex stereotypes
Reporting Concerns and Complaints
Responsible Employees have a duty to report potential sexual harassment and sexual misconduct?

CA law and Title IX require Responsible Employees to report to the Title IX Coordinator any sexual misconduct they become aware of.

Different than role as Mandated Reporter, which requires reporting suspected child (under 18) abuse or neglect immediately to County Child Protection and/or the Pasadena Police Department.

Responsible Employees are broadly defined – many categories of staff, including all types of faculty and coaches, most types of residential life personnel, and staff with any supervisory or managerial role, are responsible employees.
Caltech Amnesty Policy

A student who interacts with our office will not be subject to discipline for violating student conduct policies in connection with an incident, including substance abuse rules, unless the violation involved egregious conduct such as risking health and safety, unlawful harassment, or academic misconduct.
My philosophy is very simple: when you see something that is not right, not fair, not just, we have a moral obligation to say something, to do something, and make a little noise. … I say to each and every one of you: continue to stand up, speak up, and speak out, continue to be brave and bold and courageous.”

John Lewis

Avoiding Bias
Potential Biases in Title IX Investigations

• Policy prohibits pre-judging allegations, evidence, credibility
• To ensure neutrality and fairness, it is important to be cognizant of and avoid potential biases
• Biases may be conscious or unconscious
• Unconscious bias is far more prevalent and is often inconsistent with one’s conscious values
• Examples include stereotyping based on:
  • Gender
  • Race
  • Religious views
  • Sexual experience
  • Gender non-conformity
  • Alcohol or drug use
  • Status (professional, educational, monetary, athletic)
  • Appearance (looks, clothes)
Best Practices to Avoid Bias

• Identify and question your own biases continually
• Pay attention to feelings of being triggered; question their origin
• Express and discuss potential biases with counsel
• Imagine changing triggering characteristics to see if evaluation changes (e.g., if someone with ____ characteristic, instead, engaged in the same behavior, would I be less/more upset?)

Trauma-Informed Approach

- Evidence of behaviors that may be related to trauma, should not be considered determinative of
  - the “truth” of the complainant’s testimony
  - the occurrence of a policy violation
- Decision-maker still should explore/seek clarification of inconsistencies in testimony and other evidence
Sample Questions

What are you able to remember ____?
- Tell us about X Event.
- Remember hearing/seeing/feeling/thinking?

What else happened?
- Tell us more about X Event.
- Are you able to remember _____?

When you say you did ____ , help me understand your perspective and approach.
- Walk us through the thoughts that went through your mind when you did ____.
- Tell us about the decision to ____.
Understanding Information

Non-Linear
- Impact of trauma on memory?
- Changing their account?

Gradual
- Impact of trauma on memory?
- Inconsistency?

Counter-Intuitive
- Trauma response?
- Evidence of no incident?
Parties’ Right to Object

• Any person whom Caltech designates to facilitate any resolution process, in any role, may not have a conflict of interest or bias for or against complainants or respondents generally, or an individual complainant or respondent.

• Parties are provided opportunities at appropriate junctures to object to a person carrying out a facilitation role, on the grounds of a conflict of interest or bias.

• Title IX Coordinator decides objections for non-Coordinators.

• Associate Vice President for Human Resources decides objections for Title IX Coordinators and Deputy Coordinators.

• No right to appeal decisions on objections.
How to Assess and Decide Objections and Appeals
Appeals Decided by AVP HR

• Appeals of Emergency Removal (occurs after removal)
• Appeals of Objections to Title IX Coordinators based on general/individual bias, or conflict
• Appeals are emailed to AVP HR
• Appeal decisions are final
How to Assess an Appeal

• Must be neutral between the parties
• Must assess whether the appeal presents a factual basis for assessment: Fictitious examples:
  • YES: I attended a training at which the Title IX Coordinator stereotyped brass instrument musicians as more likely than others to commit sexual misconduct.
  • YES: I have no criminal record and have never committed violence against anyone.
  • NO: I heard the Title IX Coordinator favors complainants.
  • NO: I’m a nice person.
How to Assess an Appeal

• Must assess factual basis neutrally and factually
  • YES: asking follow up questions about the training the objector attended
  • YES: considering only the facts that were the basis for the emergency appeal
  • NO: deciding objector is exaggerating based on your knowledge of the Coordinator’s support for the local symphony
  • NO: asking Security for any prior reports concerning the objector
How to Assess an Appeal

• Response to the appeal should be written and reasonably prompt
• Response should be provided to Equity and Title IX Office for record-keeping
